HISTORY OF THE FACULTY OF EDUCATION

Faculty of Education was established in 1957 as the seventh faculty of Chulalongkorn University. At present, the Faculty of Education is widely regarded as Thailand's “academic reference and learning resource” in Education and Teacher Education, responding to the needs of the nation with the evolution of education, advanced academic principles, and the promotion of international education.

Throughout its history, Faculty of Education, Chulalongkorn University has continued to develop education, in the process producing a number of graduates who have gone on to work in high positions in both the government and private sectors, both within Thailand and all over the world. Faculty members and students have won numerous distinguished awards, and they have been recognized for their contributions to current educational development.

PHILOSOPHY

The Faculty of Education endeavors to build the educational standards of the teaching profession and relentlessly promote its development. The faculty is committed to searching for new knowledge and disseminating research findings, to further academic progress and academic services for the benefit of society.

Graduates will become highly competent in using language and symbols to communicate their knowledge and their ideas, be able to translate their thoughts into action, be creative, be eager to search for knowledge, and have a sense of responsibility based upon rational thinking. Additionally, they will develop a sense of pride and devotion to their profession; being faithful to ethical standards.

VISION

The Faculty of Education, Chulalongkorn University will continue its endeavor for both new bodies of knowledge and maintain its position as the country's "Reference in Education".

ADMISSION PROCEDURES/REQUIREMENTS

The university has introduced a new selection procedure for applicants to the Bachelor's degree program. As per the Higher Education Commission recommendations (<http://www.mua.go.th>), applicants must complete the Ordinary National Educational Test (O-net), General Aptitude Test (GAT), Professional and Academic Aptitude Test (PAT), and submit their scores with their application. Students may also be admitted in a number of special programs such as the Chula Rural Project, National Sport Development Project, International Programs, and the Direct Admission Project.

Prospective students interested in applying for a master's degree or a doctoral degree program must complete the Chulalongkorn University Test of English Proficiency (CU-TEP) or Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL), the Graduate Education Admission Test of Research (GREAT-R), and a subject test in the concentration/program applied for. Courses are offered during normal daytime hours and evenings/weekends to provide as much flexibility as possible for students to continue their studies for a graduate degree (admission requirements for certain programs may vary). For further details on how to apply for admission, please visit the official website of the Faculty of Education or contact the Office of Academic Affairs directly at <http://portal.edu.chula.ac.th/academic/>.

Prospective graduate candidates should apply directly to the International Program they are interested in. Application deadlines vary according to each program. Websites and email contacts are provided with each program's description.
